

Healthcare Week Luxembourg 2023Extension of the application period for the HWL AWARDS and preliminary programme of the Healthcare Week Luxembourg

In September, the Healthcare Week Luxembourg trade fair will open its doors. Healthcare professionals in the Greater Region can look forward to a platform for exchange and dialogue with numerous conferences by renowned experts. The preliminary programme is now available. In addition, the HWL Awards will be presented to the best innovative hospital projects. The application deadline has been extended! Interested parties have until 11 August to submit their portfolios.

HWL Awards: Apply now!

The Luxembourg Hospital Federation (FHL), the Luxembourg Ministry of the Economy, Luxinnovation, the Société des Sciences Médicales du Grand-Duché de Luxembourg and the European Association of Hospital Managers (EAHM) are rewarding the most promising start-ups and projects on the occasion of the Healthcare Week Luxembourg: prizes will be awarded to initiatives having an impact on the healthcare sector. Awards will be granted in three different categories. In addition, the jury will present a special reward with the support of the Luxembourg Ministry of Social Security.

Those interested in applying for the HWL Awards 2023 may submit the completed application form for the desired category to hwl-awards@fhflux.lu until 11 August 2023. Detailed information on the eligibility criteria, the selection process and the application forms can be found on the following websites: HWL (www.hwl.lu), FHL (www.fhflux.lu) and EAHM-AEDH-EVKM (www.eahm.eu.org).

Contact: hwl-awards@fhflux.lu

Attachments

Conference programme of the Healthcare Week Luxembourg

Press releases from 2 June 2023

About the Luxembourg Hospital Federation (FHL)

The Fédération des Hôpitaux Luxembourgeois (FHL) was founded in 1948 and formally recognised as an association in 1965. It encompasses all the hospitals in Luxembourg, with a total of 9,000 employees and more than 1,000 specialist doctors. The FHL contributes to the continuous improvement of the national health system in the interest of the patient. It facilitates collaboration and complementarity between hospitals and various other players in the sector in order to offer patients the most appropriate care. As a federation, the FHL supports the interests of its members and of healthcare professionals in general and promotes innovation and progress in hospitals in all forms. Its mission is also to inform and guide political decision-makers on the vision and strategic developments of the Luxembourg hospital sector and the healthcare sector as a whole. As a non-profit organisation, the FHL acts completely independently.

About the Healthcare Week Luxembourg (HWL)

The first Healthcare Week Luxembourg will be held from 20 to 22 September 2023 at Luxexpo The Box in Luxembourg. An initiative of the Federation of Luxembourg Hospitals (FHL) organised in partnership with events agency Quinze Mai (QM), this cross-border event is dedicated to exchanges and the actions required to strengthen our healthcare system. With thousands of participants expected to attend and offering unrivalled potential for developing national and cross-border relations, the Healthcare Week Luxembourg promises to be a landmark event for the world of healthcare. The Healthcare Week Luxembourg conferences and public meetings will address topics such as: medical progress; digitalisation and technological developments in the sector; research and innovation; attracting, training, development and motivation of human capital; organisational and cultural innovation; quality management; communication; ethics; the sharing and protection of health data; and the future of the healthcare system financing.

About the European Association of Hospital Managers (AEDH-EAHM-EVKM)

The AEDH is a pan-European, non-profit and apolitical organization that brings together national and regional organizations of hospital directors and healthcare executives. It does not pursue any political, economic or religious objective. It is one of the largest associations of hospital directors in the world. It represents directors of public and private hospitals in the European Union and internationally. The AEDH was founded in 1970 under French law. It currently brings together 19 major associations of hospital directors in 18 European countries, representing more than 16,000 individual members. The AEDH explicitly and exclusively serves the public interest. As part of the construction of a social Europe, the AEDH develops proposals concerning the hospital sector for European and national authorities. The AEDH is also a privileged interlocutor for the healthcare industry.